

Cross Boundary Multi-ride Ticket

20-ride Ticket

30-day Ticket

Passengers may, based on their travel needs, opt for multi-rides on short-haul trains arriving at and from a fixed Mainland station via West Kowloon Station with a 20-ride Ticket or 30-day Ticket. Business travellers and commuters who frequently travel to and from the Mainland can now benefit from a more convenient ticketing arrangement that offers both time and cost savings.

Ticket Type	20-ride Ticket	30-day Ticket
Station Combination	Trains travelling between West Kowloon Station and a selected short-haul Mainland station within Guangzhounan or Guangzhoudong route
Time and Ride Limits	20 rides within 90 days	60 rides within 30 days
Discounts*	Up to about 11%	Up to about 36%

*Discounts are based on the calculation of using all trips for Guangzhoudong on First Class

3 Steps towards Easy Travel

Step 1: Ticket purchase

Ticketing channels

Registered users of the China Railway 12306 online ticketing platform can buy tickets on its website and mobile app. Tickets are sold in renminbi

Station combination

Upon ticket purchase, a fixed station combination involving a journey via West Kowloon Station to/from a designated Mainland station must be chosen

Ticket type

Subject to the types or classes available at the time of purchase

Refund

Refund for unused tickets can be processed on the 12306 official website or mobile app within 30 days from the date of purchase (the activation period). Product that is not used within the activation period will be invalidated automatically with full refund credited to the original payment means

Reminder

Passengers can buy multiple products with different departure/arrival stations, and up to two products with the same departure/arrival stations; passengers should confirm that the first product they hold has already been activated before buying the same product again

Step 2: Seat reservation

Upon ticket purchase, seat reservation must be made for boarding. The validity period of the ticket begins from the date of the first journey.

Travel date and train trip

- ◆ The first journey must be made within 30 days after purchase of the ticket
- ◆ Reservation can be made for trains departing within 15 days (travel date must fall within the validity period of the ticket)
- ◆ During reservation, the system will show available short-haul train trips based on the product and station combination bought

Number of reservations

- ◆ 10 train trips can be reserved concurrently for each ticket type

Reservation channels

Reservation for departure from West Kowloon Station or Mainland stations can be made through the following channels:

- ◆ 12306 official website and mobile app: Ticket information can be retrieved in 12306 account
- ◆ Ticket machines at Mainland stations: Trip Information Reminders with details of train journeys are available after reservation

Moreover, passengers departing from Mainland stations can also board the trains through the following channel:

- ◆ Boarding gate at Mainland stations*: Seats can be obtained simply by entering the gate with the identification document used for ticket purchase, and ticket information will be sent to the passenger's pre-set notification channel in their 12306 account or the registered mobile phone number via SMS

* When a passenger holds multiple 20-ride Tickets or 30-day Tickets or Single Journey Tickets that are applicable to the current boarding gate, a seat can only be obtained for boarding by selecting the ticket concerned at the Staff Assistance channel

 Please seek assistance from station staff if you do not receive the ticket information

Reservation cut-off time

- ◆ For 12306: 45 minutes before departure at West Kowloon Station/30 minutes before departure from Mainland stations
- ◆ For ticket machines and boarding gates at Mainland stations: subject to the arrangements at individual stations

Reservation cancellation

- ◆ Reservations can be cancelled for free before departure, whereas passengers who have not cancelled their reservations will be deemed as boarded and the remaining counts of rides will be deducted
- ◆ For both 20-ride Tickets and 30-day Tickets, if 5 reservations are cancelled within 48 hours before departure, the number of train trips that can be reserved will reduce to 1 until all rides are used up or until the validity period expires.

Step 3: Boarding

- ◆ After a seat reservation is made*, passengers can proceed with the regular process and complete real-name checking, baggage check, immigration formalities and boarding with their identification documents
- ◆ Passengers are only allowed to board the reserved train with a designated seat and must embark at the specified station. Alighting beyond or before the designated station will be treated as travelling without a ticket

* At Mainland stations, real-name checking and baggage check can be completed first before getting your seat directly at the boarding gate

Reminder

20-ride Tickets and 30-day Tickets are not applicable to the Same-day Flexi-trip Arrangement
